Try our Widget

ATDW's free Distribution Widget allows you to promote local tourism products and experiences on your website, much like a "brochure rack" would. It's simple to setup, allows you to select the style and tailor the widget's appearance, easily integrates and displays up-to-date content relevant and complimentary to your business and ultimately it improves your website's user experience.

Who is ATDW?

The Australian Tourism Data Warehouse (ATDW) was established in 2001 to provide the tourism industry with a national content standard and create a comprehensive, high quality consumer relevant database of Australian tourism products and destination content.

ATDW works in partnership with all Australian State and Territory Government Tourism Organisations (STOs) to collect, quality assure and manage the wide range of tourism products in the database. The flexible database enables distributors to pick and choose which product listings, categories and regions they wish to publish on their digital channel and they can apply their own style and branding. This content is available for online publication through ATDW's multi-channel distribution network.

Make it Bookable

BOOK NOW

Together with publishing ATDW's rich content, distributors also have the option to extend their online offering by enabling online bookings across a selection of tourism products. ATDW listings have been mapped with several booking exchanges such as TXA, HotelsCombined and Bookeasy which combines ATDW's quality content with live rates and availability; delivering a secure payment process with instant booking confirmations. Note: Distributors are to make direct agreements with these booking partners to enable this service. Alternatively, ATDW listings in various categories include the tourism businesses preferred booking URL that Distributors could display as means of conversion for those products.
